

Eglwyseg Chapel

The ruins of Eglwyseg Chapel today.

The Methodist chapel in Eglwyseg was built in 1856 at a cost of £130. As with St Mary's Church, the land was donated by Sir Watkin Williams Wynne. Services stopped in 1930 and the chapel was abandoned. By 1950 the building was delapidated and is now totally in ruins.

We hope to have a more complete story of Eglwyseg Chapel available soon.

The Chapel was already a ruin in the 1960s.
